ABOUT US BTC TRADE

Traditionally, bitcoin trading has involved the buying and selling of the cryptocurrency on an exchange. But, you can also trade on bitcoin by speculating on its price movements using CFDs. Bitcoin (BTC) is a cryptocurrency (a virtual currency) designed to act as money and a form of payment outside the control of any one person, group, or entity. This removes the need for trusted third-party involvement (e.g., a mint or bank) in financial transactions.

VISION AND MISSION

Bitcoin's vision is to create a decentralized, censorship-resistant, and permissionless global payment network that empowers individuals and fosters financial inclusion. Bitcoin's mission is to maintain and improve the Bitcoin protocol and network, and to promote its adoption and use.

Crypto makes it possible to transfer value online without the need for a middleman like a bank or payment processor, allowing value to transfer globally, near-instantly, 24/7, for low fees. Bitcoin is a form of digital currency that aims to eliminate the need for central authorities such as banks or governments. Instead, Bitcoin uses blockchain technology to support peer-to-peer transactions between users on a decentralized network.
